Subject: Urgent Request to Protect Personal Prescription Importation Access Ahead of October 22 Cutoff

Dear [Representative / Senator Last Name],

I am writing as a constituent to express my profound concern regarding the upcoming U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and Food and Drug Administration (FDA) administrative policy changes scheduled to take effect on October 22, 2026. This regulatory shift will effectively block the personal importation of safe, affordable maintenance medications that millions of Americans, including myself, have relied upon for over 25 years.

The new formal entry requirements and the strict enforcement against commercially available medications do not stem from a new law passed by Congress. Instead, these agency-level mandates create an insurmountable bureaucratic barrier for certified international mail-order pharmacies.

[OPTIONAL: Insert 2–3 sentences here detailing your personal situation. For example: "As a senior on a fixed income, I rely on a certified Canadian pharmacy to purchase my daily blood pressure medication. In the U.S., this exact same medication costs three times as much, forcing an impossible choice between my health and basic living expenses."]

This policy directly harms vulnerable, underinsured Americans and seniors who depend on international personal importation to safely manage chronic health conditions. Forcing patients back into an expensive domestic market without cost protections will inevitably lead to decreased medication adherence and poorer public health outcomes.

I urgently request that you intervene by contacting leadership at CBP and the FDA to demand a delay or modification of this rule. Please protect your constituents by advocating for a permanent legislative framework that safeguards safe personal prescription importation from certified international pharmacies.

Thank you for your time, leadership, and immediate attention to this critical health matter. I look forward to hearing your position on this issue.

Sincerely,
